

Class of 2016 Reception

On Thursday, April 28, 2016 Armstrong hosted its annual Class Reception honoring the Class of 2016. Current Armstrong 8th grade students as well as Armstrong Alumni in the 8th grade or in their senior year of high school were invited to celebrate. Over 60 students, families, faculty, staff, and trustees attended. Pictured here are some of the high school class of 2016 representatives who were back -- visiting with each other and, many seeing the campus renovations for the first time.

Alumni Feature: Elaina Vielbaum

Elaina Vielbaum uses the word ADVOCATE a lot. She has learned to advocate for herself. She wants to advocate for others.

Unfortunately, to this day, she remembers an instance when she could not advocate for herself and no one else advocated for her either. As a six-year old in kindergarten she was instructed to form the letter A with rubber bands on a nail board and she could not do it. This "failure" caused the teacher to take away her snack and her chocolate milk, upsetting her greatly. As she recalls this story she says it is "so funny" that she remembers it so clearly, but clearly, it is not funny. She is still upset about missing that chocolate milk. Armstrong Updates

Matt Merrifield was on campus recently. Matt attended Armstrong in 6th and 7th grades between 2004 and 2006. He is back in the Bay Area after spending time in Texas and Oklahoma as he will be starting at the Culinary Institute of America in Napa beginning in May. He and his father both enjoyed looking through the campus improvements!

Matt, thanks for visiting!
